

HAMBURG, GERMANY

Arrive: 0800 Thursday, 05 September
Onboard: 1800 Sunday, 08 September

Brief Overview: With a population of 1.8 million, Hamburg is the second largest city in Germany, after Berlin. 50% of the city was destroyed in World War II, but today it is the “greenest” city in Germany, thanks to tree-lined avenues and an abundance of parks including the three lakes of Alster Park. Not only green in color, the HafenCity is the largest urban reclamation development in Europe and has won numerous awards for its eco-friendly blend of modern and historic buildings. Hamburg also boasts an incredible amount of waterways and 2,500 bridges, many of which are adorned with “love padlocks” – a phenomenon that began in Italy and quickly spread across Europe thanks to the book I Want You by Federico Mucci.

Surprisingly, Hamburg is third to New York and London in musical theater productions. The Lion King theater is a short boat ride across the harbor and may be seen from our ship. As new as musical theater is to Hamburg, it has nothing on the trumpeter at St. Michael’s church, who has been bugling to the four directions of the city every day at 10 am and 9 pm for three hundred years. Plan to be in the vicinity at least once during your port stay.

Out of town: About an hour from Hamburg is Lübeck: the “queen” of the Hansa League (medieval precursor to the European Union) and a quaint town to explore with Professor Greg Mason. Berlin, with all its fascinating history and modern graffiti is an easy bus (3.5 hours) or train (2+ hours) ride away. The Germany of brats and fests isn’t entirely out of reach, but it is about 6 hours south in the state of Bavaria.

On Your Own: The S-Bahn, U-Bahn, city buses, and your own two feet make getting around town easy. In addition, there are red “rent-a-bikes” (1,650 bikes that can be rented from 130 stands). If you want to rent one, register at the bike stand, online, or with the Stadtrap app. The first half hour is free, followed by 8 cents a minute with a max of 12 Euro per day. Bikes can be returned at any station (think Redbox or Zipcar). For outdoor enthusiasts, there is a five-mile trail around Alster Lake that is popular among Hamburgers (yes, that’s what they are called!) that begins at Jungfernstieg. Canoes, paddle boats, or sailboats may also be rented for some time on the lake.

HAM 200-201 BERLIN HOLOCAUST MUSEUM & BONHOFFER HOUSE OVERNIGHT 2 Days/ 1 Night

"Many years ago I visited the Holocaust memorial at Auschwitz, and it has stayed with me ever since. Periodically this awareness has found its way into my courses, and I have come to know some of the articulate voices of the Holocaust, both Jewish and Christian: Elie Wiesel, Anne Frank, Etty Hillesum, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, among others. I think of this field trip as a kind of pilgrimage that will allow me to pay homage to the Holocaust's victims and to express gratitude to the brave souls who worked to mitigate its effects. Like countless others, I will be striving to better understand this low point in human history." FA13 Professor Thomas Coburn

DAY 1 (BOX LUNCH FROM SHIP, dinner on your own)

Your tour today will depart from the pier in the morning headed to Berlin by deluxe restroom-equipped motor coach. Upon arrival in Berlin, we will stop at our hotel for luggage drop off and lunch on your own.

Following lunch, we will begin a city tour with a local guide which takes you to many of the highlights of this interesting and history-rich city. Some of the highlights that you can see during the tour include the remnants of the Berlin Wall, chilling proof of what was the city's most notorious landmark for 28 years; the Kaiser Wilhelm Memorial Church, preserved as a ruin after World War II; the Brandenburg Gate, which will always be known as the "border" between East and West Germany; and the Reichstag Parliament Building, which regained its prominence when the German government moved the capital back to Berlin from Bonn. The tour will continue with a stop at Checkpoint Charlie, where you will have a chance for photos and to meet the local guards. You will also see the Berlin Cathedral with its neo-Baroque interior and massive dome. A focal point of the tour will be a visit to the Bonhoeffer House. Dietrich Bonhoeffer – Berlin pastor and professor of theology – resisted National Socialism at a time when tyranny and racism ruled Germany, victimizing religious, ethnic, and social minorities. Bonhoeffer actively applied his Christian faith and theological reflection to his everyday actions. As this brought him into conflict with the Nazi regime, he was invited to leave Germany and seek refuge in America at New York's Union Theological Seminary. After initially accepting, Bonhoeffer soon recognized the need to be with his people and so returned to Germany. There he was drawn into anti-Nazi activism and eventually came to see it as his Christian duty to participate in a plot to assassinate Hitler. The plot failed and Bonhoeffer was executed a month before the end of World War II. Bonhoeffer's legacy—as articulated in writings like The Cost of Discipleship and Letters and Papers from Prison—remains very much alive for Christians today, and his notion of "religionless Christianity" has drawn attention far beyond Christian circles. Dinner and the evening are on one's own.

DAY 2:

After breakfast at our hotel we will transfer to the Holocaust Museum for a guided tour. The Memorial to the murdered Jews of Europe in the center of Berlin is the German Holocaust Memorial honoring and remembering the up to six million Jewish victims of the Holocaust. Located between the Brandenburg Gate and Potsdamer Platz, the Memorial consists of the Field of Stelae, designed by Peter Eisenman, and the subterranean Information Centre. The exhibition at the Information Centre documents the persecution and extermination as well as the historic sites of the crimes. Each year, nearly half a million visitors come to the Information Centre.

HAM 110-201 HAFENCITY & SPICE WAREHOUSE WALKING TOUR

Half-Day

Depart the pier on foot with your local guide. Visit HafenCity, a redevelopment project of former industrial land, in Hamburg’s old harbor, along the Elbe River. HafenCity is the largest inner city redevelopment project currently in Europe.

You’ll see the breath-taking Elbphilharmonie Concert Hall and learn about its unique construction. The structure is formed from a historical warehouse with a glass façade at the top. What’s important to people who live and use HafenCity, is not the splashy designer architecture, but instead the amount of public space that is available to residence.

After the Harbour city tour you will visit the Spice Museum - the only spice museum in the world. Here, one is invited to smell, taste, and touch fifty unprocessed spices and kitchen herbs. More than 900 exhibits from the last five centuries illustrate how spices were cultivated and later processed. Rotating exhibitions complete the program. You will have a 30 minute introduction about spices and their history.

Your tour today will depart from the pier in the morning headed to Munich by high speed train.

Upon arrival you will embark on a 3 hour sightseeing tour of the city. You will discover sights such as the Pinakotheken art museums, the world famous Hofbrauhaus, the National Theater with the Royal Palace, Marienplatz and the Viktualien market with its colorful outdoor stalls. The remainder of the evening is free at your leisure.

DAY 2: September 7th, 2013 (B)

After breakfast at our hotel, you will depart on a full day excursion to Mount Zugspitz. This mountain is the highest peak in all of Germany and offers incredible views from the top. Enjoy lunch on the mountain.

After you descend, board the bus and continue to Linderhof Castle. Ludwig II had a habit of designing palaces after his idols. In the case of Linderhof Palace, the inspiration was the Sun-King Louis XIV and Versailles as he built up the "King's Cottage". Sun decor, a hall of mirrors, and a smaller scale version of Versailles' Ambassador's staircase are testament to the king's admirations. As far as royal palaces go, Linderhof Palace has a private atmosphere with only four rooms that actually served a purpose.

The gardens surrounding Lin/ Muderhof Palace are considered some of the most beautiful in the world, combining the formal elements of Baroque style and Italian Renaissance gardens with landscaped sections in the English style.

After your castle tour, you will return to Munich where the remainder of the evening is free at your leisure.
